OFFICIAL NEGLECT .- It would be an pocket, if the Post Master at Iowa Point have a number of subscribers at that place, and not a week passes, but we have complaints that the paper does not reach come of them regularly. A man called upon us this week, who subscribed three months ago, to whom the paper has been sent regularly, but he said he had not received a single paper during the whole time. Several have discontinued their papers, on this account; some have changed their address to other offices; and many who desire to take the paper, deeline to do so, for the reason above stated. We have come to the conclusion that this neglect is not accidental, but wilful. We mail the paper regularly, directed plainly, the distance between the two places is only five miles, and the mail is not opened before it reaches there. These omissions cannot all happen accidentally, and do not so happen. If there is a jealousy existing between the two towns, it does not follow that a Post Master must neglect his duty. When the back country is supplied with post offices, and the people out there are no longer dependent upon Iowa Point for their mail matter, it wili put a good many dollars into our
